

FBI AGENT BRIEF

The information contained within this brief explains the requirements and benefits of becoming an FBI field agent. Please read this brief carefully and if you still have questions about becoming an FBI field agent, please direct them to the email listed at the bottom of this brief.

What is an FBI Field Agent?

Any person who knows an individual or company who is in need of better illustrative design for a current project, or needs to improve upon an existing work be it a logo, diagram, icons, character design etc.

You become an FBI field agent in your territory by simply submitting a validated lead that we can follow up on. If your lead results in a case being opened (The client approves an FBI quote) then you automatically earn a 10% reward (referral fee) on the quoted amount.

Once the project is complete and the client pays the FBI invoice you'll be issued a check in the amount of 10% of the original quoted amount. The more leads that result in open cases, the more you make as an FBI Field Agent.

An Example of How it Works.

Lets say you know a company who is using terrible art for their mascot, and they're looking to have a new one created. You submit them as a validated lead to the FBI and I then provide the company with a quoted amount to design a new mascot for them.

If they approve the quote, the project then begins. When the final art is complete and the files have been delivered, I'll invoice the project. Once the FBI receives the payment we'll issue you a check for 10% of the approved quoted amount.

Validate Your Leads.

As an FBI field agent you need to make sure that the individual or company you submit as a lead wants to be contacted regarding our services. Are they seeking someone to do an illustrative project? Ask them if it's OK for the FBI (Von Glitschka) to submit a no obligation quote for their illustrative needs.

Benefits of Being an FBI Field Agent.

You help to improve design in general. You can earn money for each lead that turns into an open case. You will receive an official FBI t-shirt for FREE. (Applies to first case opened) Your territory will be added to our growing list of field offices. Your name will be listed as the one who filed the lead on any submitted cases posted to the site moving forward.

Have questions? Send them to: fbi@glitschka.com

Notice: The FBI cannot pay a percentage to individuals whose design crime tip derives from their own employer being reported. We want to operate ethically and avoid any conflict of interest. The FBI can still be brought in to work with you but no reward will be paid. A shirt will be given however since that is our gift to you.